Acknowledgements

The field work had two phases, one was literature survey of the works of J.C. Bose, his biography and works about Bose. The other phase was a survey on students' ideas about J. C. Bose and his contributions in science.

I owe my debt to the Headmaster, concerned teachers, and students who willingly participated in the survey. I express my thanks to Prof. Kalyan Mukherjee from Bose Institute, Kolkata, who not only guided me with valuable suggestions and supplied reading materials but also provided new perspective on some aspects of J. C. Bose's work.

Prof. Sugra Chunawala, guide of the project, showed her utmost patience in correcting the drafts and providing critical inputs. Without her tireless efforts the report would never come into a presentable form. Her contribution is beyond any formal thankfulness.

The entire D&T group of HBCSE has tolerated my demands while I was working on this manuscript and they deserve my hearty appreciation.

I realised that it was a difficult task to finish this report within the proposed time period mentioned in the project proposal. Despite everyone's support, I could not finish my task within the proposed time period and I accept sole responsibility for the delay in submitting the report.

I extend my gratitude to the Prof. H. C. Pradhan, Centre Director and Prof. Jayashree Ramadas, Dean for approving the longer time required for the task.

If there are some incorrect statements, opinions, or typographical errors in the report, I am fully responsible for the same. I request readers to give their valuable suggestions and critical inputs that I can incorporate in another version in future.
